Northside Drive Baptist Church Stained Glass Window Tours will be held on Thursday, March 8 @ 11:00 AM &
Tuesday, March 20 @ 11:00 AM in the NDBC Sanctuary.

The Phoenix Flies: A Celebration of Atlanta’s Historic Sites was created in 2003 by the Atlanta Preservation Center as a way to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the dramatic rescue of the Fox Theatre. The Celebration, which has grown from nearly 100 Partners with 175+ Events around the city during the first weeks of March each year, puts on display Atlanta’s historic built environment of buildings, landscapes and neighborhoods. This year Phoenix Flies takes place March 3 - March 25, 2018. Northside Drive has been accepted as a contributing partner to showcase its story-telling stained glass windows.

Successful Souper Bowl
Thanks to each of you for making this year’s Souper Bowl a huge success! We gathered to share over 22 different soups and chilis, brownies and cookies and in doing so raised over $2200 for the Hunger Fund. Our guest speaker Jeremy Lewis spoke about Urban Recipe, one of the many organizations our church supports with the Hunger Fund. It was a great day of food and fellowship. A special thank you to Terrell Kilgore our youngest cook for his wonderful pot of chili and his “hands on” help that day.

I could not have done it without him.

“A Journey of Renewal”

It seems like we just finished Advent, and Lent is already upon us! Lent officially begins on Ash Wednesday, which falls on February 4th–Valentine’s Day. On Wednesday the NDBC Chapel will be open from 7:30AM to 6:30PM for the imposition of ashes. Ashes are a reminder of our mortality, and a tangible sign that we are under the sign of the Cross. To see the universe as having a cruciform shape is to see both the presence of suffering in the world and the possibility of redemption. If we only had the Cross without Resurrection, our spiritual lives would be dreary indeed.

But the imposition of the ashes is not an invitation into gloomy melancholy. We do not pretend that Jesus is in the grave until Easter morning because we know how the story ends. Etyymology is sometimes revelatory. According to Merriam-Webster, “Lent” is from the “Middle English lente springtime, Lent, from Old English lencen; akin to Old High German lenzin spring.” Lent, then, can be understood as a time of renewal, just as spring is a fecund metaphor for renewal.

We could use many metaphors for Lent, but I like the idea of being on a journey of renewal. It is a journey to the Cross. During Lent we will liturgically reenact Jesus’ journey to the Cross, his suffering and death, culminating in his glorious resurrection on Easter morning. Our path to the cruciform shape of the Universe is in an invitation to immerse ourselves in the disciplines of the Christian life so that we might draw close to God.

Many like to read devotionals, attending to the life of the mind and the matters of the heart. Last year I read Walter Brueggemann’s A Way Other Than Our Own, a daily Lenten devotional. I commend it to you; it’s just a few bucks in the book format. This year the homily series during the Lenten season will focus on concrete disciplines. Each Tuesday evening services will focus on the disciplines highlighted in our homilies so that we might draw close to the hearts of the people as we engage with them as spiritual directors. The disciplines of the Christian life so that we might draw close to God.

Where would you like to travel this Lent? You could explore the disciplines of the Christian life along a personal pilgrimage using the Lenten stations of the cross. You could explore the disciplines of the Christian life in a devotional. I commend it to you; it’s just a few bucks in the book format. This year the homily series during the Lenten season will focus on concrete disciplines. The disciplines highlighted in our homilies will be solitude, prayer, and the art of Parliament.
